

Where is your time going?

The work worth automating usually hides in plain sight, so routine that nobody notices it anymore.

01 WORK THAT ISN'T REALLY YOURS

- What are you doing by hand that a tool could just handle?
- What do you dread seeing on your to-do list?
- What makes you think “there has to be a faster way”?

The answer is usually a workflow, not more hours.

02 THE BUSYWORK

- What do you do the same way many times a day or week?
- Where do you type the same information into more than one system?

Copy-paste between tools is almost always automatable.

- What task gets passed around because nobody wants to own it?
- What report or number do you rebuild by hand every week?

03 THE WORK THAT PILES UP

- When things get busy, what falls behind first?
- What only you know how to do, so it waits when you're out?
- What takes too long between someone asking and it actually getting done?

04 WHAT AI CAN PLUG INTO

The more of your tools it can reach, the more it takes off your plate:

CRM

Accounting & finance

Email & calendar

Files & documents

Project & job management

Quotes & proposals

Team chat

E-signature

Industry-specific platforms count too.

A set of prompts for spotting the everyday tasks where AI could take the busywork off your plate.

Reid Johnston

Cofounder & CITO

linkedin.com/in/reidjohnston